VetCoin® HQ Update 2021-10-04

I'm trying to think of another word for busy. Something that's more, but not quite hectic. My wonderful daughter (when she's not busy calling me a dinosaur) thinks we're "packed." She might be right. VetCoin™ HQ is bustling with activity these past few weeks!

S1 – Crypto News: Crypto Education

In life we constantly make assumptions. It's how the mind deals with the world in order to understand it. For example, we assume the floor is solid and we can walk on it. We also assume our currency will always have value so we can spend it. But cryptocurrency… what is it?

S2 VetCoin Community: VetCoin™ is the Future!

How "packed" are we at VetCoin™ HQ? Quite. We met with several developers in the past few weeks and have no shortage of good ideas for the future of VetCoin™. Our biggest challenge over the next few months will be deciding which great feature we want to roll out first! Time will tell and voices will be heard. Jump into our Discord server to start dropping your questions and comments.

S3 – Upcoming Events: What's coming next?

Swag! Did you know we have a Swag store on Bonfire? It's true! Check it out! The temperature is dropping so make sure you're the first kid on your block with the VetCoin hoodie!

Where are the sailors at? The birthday of the Navy is October 13th 1775. Happy Birthday to the second oldest service! May your bell ringing and cake eating be as magical as the seas are deep. A special nod to the Trusty Shellbacks and Blue Noses out there. You know who you are. Anchors Aweigh!

RLTW!
